

POL23 – Candidate Malpractice Policy

This policy applies to all qualifications and standards.

It is issued with reference to the Exam Rules and Regulations including APM Rules and Regulations for Remote Invigilated Exams and Chartered Project Professional Assessments, published on the APM website and supersedes any previous versions.

1. Definition

APM defines malpractice as an established breach of the published Exam and Assessment Rules and Regulations.

Examples of malpractice include:

- Cheating – failing to comply with the Rules and Regulations and Assessment Rules or any instructions given by APM in order to gain an unfair advantage in the examination / assessment,
- Colluding – collaborating or communicating with another person to gain advantage by any means, including facilitating or receiving such assistance.
- Personating – appearing or producing work on behalf of another candidate / applicant in order to mislead the examiners.
- Plagiarising – including in your work that which has been created by another person
- Using unauthorised material during an online assessment.
- Dishonest and/or unethical practice: this covers any form of practice which attempted to deceive others, but which is not specifically identified in the above and referred by the Investigation Panel.
- Inappropriate supervision of the exam breaching the terms and conditions for Self-Invigilation.

2. Measures to prevent and identify malpractice in APM examinations/assessments

APM's examinations and assessments are conducted under strict conditions.

In the instance of face-to-face examinations/assessments an invigilator/assessor approved by APM will oversee the examination/assessment event. The invigilator/assessor is responsible for checking photographic identification of each candidate, for the safe and secure delivery of the examination paper and answer book/mark sheets to the examination venue, and for the collection and return to APM of all the examination material at the end of the examination event.

In the instance of remotely delivered examinations, ProctorExam has delegated authority to monitor and record all webpages used via screenshare and the external environment via webcam.

Candidates are required to conduct themselves in accordance with the candidate guidance in operation at the time and abide by the Exam Rules and Regulations and assessment rules.

The invigilator/assessor is empowered to ask a candidate to leave the examination room at any time, if the invigilator/assessor suspects a breach to the Exam Rules and Regulations or for matters pertaining to the Health and Safety of the candidate, other candidates or exam/assessment personnel.

The invigilator/assessor will take necessary action to prevent further malpractice, without disadvantaging other candidates taking the examination/assessment. Any such action, and the reason for it, must be recorded in writing and the invigilator's report returned to APM with the examination materials and within the agreed timeframes as set out by APM's Service Level Requirements for Examinations.

In the instance of online examinations, supervised through ProctorExam, ProctorExam will flag exam recordings for review by the internal APM Qualifications Team where there is the suspicion of inappropriate conduct or malpractice.

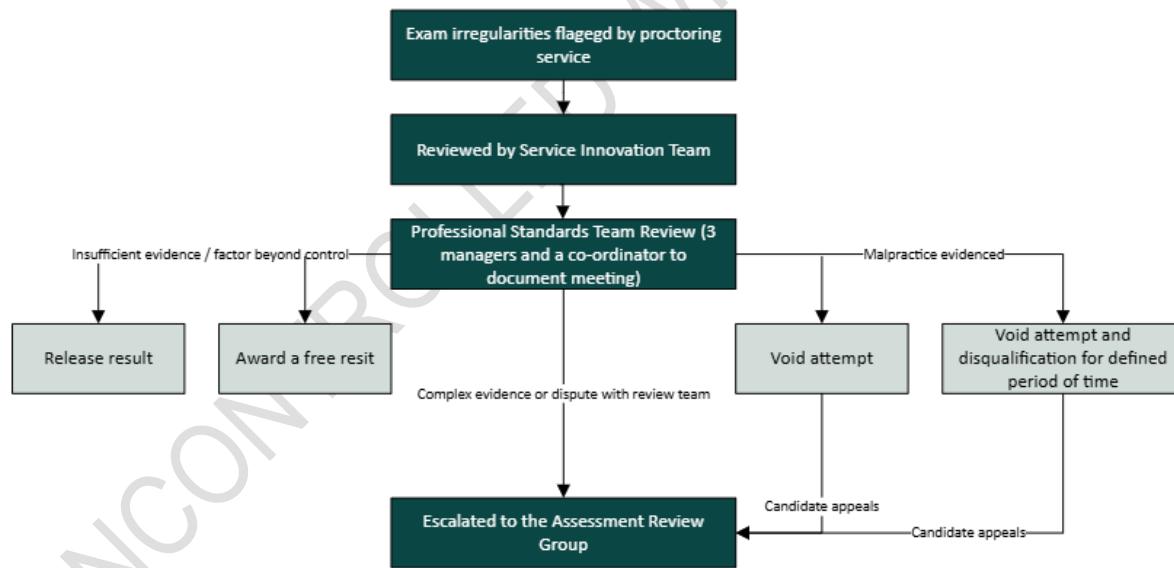

The investigation panel nominated to investigate suspected inappropriate behaviour, may refer cases to be reviewed under the malpractice policy.

Potential malpractice may also be suspected by the APM examiner marking scripts or the assessor team after the examination/assessment or identified as part of the optical scanning and quality assurance of multiple-choice papers which takes place in APM's offices.

3. APM action on suspicion of malpractice

In the event of suspected malpractice the APM Service Innovation team will contact the candidate / applicant to inform them that an investigation is pending with specific reference to the Rules and Regulations which are considered to have been breached. The candidate/applicant will have the opportunity to formally note their views on the alleged breach, including any mitigation they feel is relevant.

Any suspected malpractice is flagged. The following process flow is then initiated:

Meetings of the Panels shall be documented by a Professional Standards Co-Ordinator who will take the role of Panel Secretary.

The action recommended, and the reasons for it, will be communicated to the candidate and their Accredited Provider (if applicable). Actions may include (but not limited to);

- Candidate / applicant will have their assessment mark confirmed and a finding of no misconduct confirmed.
- Candidate will receive a zero mark for that assessment and offered a complimentary re-sit.

- Candidate will be disqualified from their attempt.
- Candidate will be disqualified from their attempt and prevented from sitting further qualifications for a reasonable, defined period*

*The defined period will be determined based on the seriousness and impact of the malpractice. In the event of a repeat presentation to the Panel a permanent disqualification from the APM qualifications/assessments may be enforced.

The candidate / applicant has the right to appeal the decision made by the Malpractice Panel and must do so in writing within ten working days of the decision being communicated.

Should a candidate/applicant appeal the decision the Professional Standards Team review, the Assessment Review Group will meet and review. This group consists of: Director of Education and Lifelong Learning, the Head of Professional standards, the Senior Qualifications Manager and an external stakeholder, in this case a member of the Qualifications Panel.

Decisions made by the Assessment Review Group are final.

If the candidate in question is a member of APM, the matter will also be reported to the Chief Executive, for potential investigation as a breach of the APM's Code of Professional Conduct for members.

APM will inform any relevant Regulatory Body in accordance with their prevailing rules and regulations.
